A Few Words That Describe This Event:

Exciting, Fun,
Motivating,
Audience Participation,
Life Changing,
Empowering...

As of November 2008, almost 2 MILLION JOBS had been lost.

This is a staggering number and it continues to rise. Due to the overwhelming amount of people going for fewer and fewer jobs, they must be able to differentiate themselves and stand out from the crowd. The number one issue facing people interviewing is their inability to effectively communicate and demonstrate their experience and skills. With Stephen’s breakthrough event that will all change!

This breakthrough interviewing and career event is exciting and dynamic and will captivate, motivate, and prepare people for interviewing and career success! Stephen’s sincere desire to help others comes through in how he speaks from the heart and with passion. The atmosphere is exciting, fun and full of energy. Equipped with this new knowledge, people will have the tools needed to immediately impact their lives. They will leave with the ability to get back in the game for career success all while focusing on helping others.

Stephen incorporates into this event tools and strategies for dealing with job loss and transition and how to begin to move forward. He also discusses the importance of helping others in everything we do. He wants people to understand that true purpose can only be found when we take our eyes off ourselves and look for ways to help others in whatever career they so choose. By following the simple principle that Jesus lived out we are able to find joy in all that we do.

This 60 or 90 minute event can be tailored to meet your needs.

A Little About Stephen

Stephen is “America’s Achievement Speaker!” He is the author of the newly released book Promoting Yourself, Tips and Tools for Acing the Interview, Receiving the Raise, and Helping Others Along the Way.
